

Furano Facts

Nestled in the centre of Hokkaido, the picturesque town of Furano benefits from more than 8 metres of snow each season and more blue sky fresh powder days than most resorts in Japan.

The mountain is divided into 2 linked zones and the terrain consists of long groomed winding wide trails, challenging steeps and open ungroomed powder fields. Beginners and intermediates can enjoy 23 of the widest, longest and most perfectly groomed runs in Japan. For high intermediates and advanced, Furano has hosted the Downhill Ski World Cup 10 times and thus has not only some of the longest powder courses but is also the steepest on course mountain in Hokkaido. Night skiing and snowboarding is open until 8pm each day and makes for a spectacular way to spend an evening.

Free ski host services are available at Furano. These bilingual guided tours cater for all levels of skiers and snowboarders in both large and small groups. As well as showing you every aspect of the resort the hosts can give you some local history lessons, recommend restaurants and bars.

Accommodation varies from ski-in / ski-out luxury hotels, lodges and small family-run pensions.

Tomamu Facts

Tomamu is situated 150km east of Sapporo close to the Hidaka National Park. Tomamu is the most lavish of the Hokkaido resorts and no expense has been spared on with first class facilities on and off mountain. The main resort is spread over two peaks with eleven different lifts accessing over 20kms of pistes to suite all levels of skier or boarder, including long courses, deep moguls as well as beginner pistes. Unlike most Japanese resorts, Tomamu allows tree riding and offers some great backcountry guiding services including Cat and Heli boarding. Night skiing is also available until 7pm.
